

JAIPUR VISIT

With the scorching heat of the Sunday morning of 25th September 2016, the much awaited Jaipur visit of metallurgical and materials engineering department commenced from the campus with full zeal and enthusiasm.

We reached our first destination Amber Fort with a bustling group of people including the mentors, sub mentors and first year students whose infectious energy did beat the heat. From there we made our way up to Jaigarh Fort through the tunnel to experience the mesmerizing view and have a sneak peek of the cannons.

Then we headed to Jal Mahal to experience the pink city bliss. The Hanuman Temple was our terminus destination from where we returned to MNIT campus. The visit was exquisite and an enthralling experience for the first year students who have come from different parts of the country. Not to forget, the delicious refreshments were cherry on the cake.

The visit was quite beneficial for the senior-junior interaction and the enthusiasm of the first year students was really appreciable.
